

The Arrest to Release Process: How Bail Bonds Fit In

01. Arrest and Booking

When an individual is arrested, they are taken to a detention facility for booking. This process involves fingerprinting, photographing, and recording personal information, as well as the charges against them.

02. Bail Hearing

After booking, the arrested person will typically have a bail hearing. During this hearing, the judge sets the bail amount based on various factors, including the severity of the crime, flight risk, and prior criminal history.

03. Contact a Bail Bondsman

If the bail amount is set and the individual cannot afford to pay it directly, contacting a bail bondsman, such as Bail Bonds in Red Bluff, is the next step. The bondsman will provide a surety bond in exchange for a fee, typically a percentage of the total bail amount.

04. Signing the Agreement

Once you engage a bail bondsman, you'll need to complete the necessary paperwork and agree to the terms of the bond. This includes an explanation of the fees and responsibilities associated with the bail bond.

05. Release from Custody

After the bail bond is processed and the necessary paperwork is completed, the bondsman sends the bond to the court, which allows for the release of the arrested individual. They can then return home while awaiting their court date.
